NETWORK MARKETING

Hey, people you may know, are developing skills on project marketplace. Here is what they have to say!

PROJECTMARKETPLACE
TATA COMMUNICATIONS

My Name:

People you may know from your personal business are already using Project Marketplace and joining the best of breed opportunities on the network. Here is what they have to say...

Deviya Patel
Deputy General Manager, TCSIL Hyderabad

I consider Project Marketplace as a great platform for Collaboration, Skill Enhancement and Cross Functional working opportunity. It is a right platform for employees to get to know more projects or tasks of various other than their regular day to day job. It shall also enable the person to use the skills he/she has but is not being utilized in current job role. It is a WIN-WIN situation as it serves to benefit both the company as well as the employee. I had used the platform to take part in a memorable project on Block Chain, Money and Beyond. My aim in enrolling for the same was to be part of doing something different than my existing role and also, widening my horizons and working on potential next gen technology BUILT new Skills.

When I tried to apply as the Project Marketplace, I felt very much friendly and I had no problem at all. This is essential for the successful use of any platform as it should have seamless looking toolbar. Since I found a more regular system to use the platform to keep myself posted on potential new projects which coming and if I can contribute towards the same. The project I am working on is enabling me to think beyond my regular work hours and build up my income which is better, faster and produce something original for the company and self.

As a king to the king I got to collaborate with fellow colleagues to the same organization but different teams. When I would have probably not interacted with. It helps you to diversify your profile at your own will and you learn on the job and use of self income earned of a training session. The network of Project Marketplace is also very encouraging trying to give some awards points or some etc as they are open to receive feedback and the platform shall continuously evolve towards being mutually beneficial. So Project Marketplace is definitely the RIGHT CHOICE.

MATTHEW FROM MARKETING
WORKED WITH THE DATA
SCIENCE TEAM TO DESIGN A
CAMPAIGN FOR THEM

Here is what he has to say ... "It has been a pleasure to work alongside the Data Sciences team, developing an internal communications plan to drive adoption of their practice across the organisation. Now just a couple of weeks away from launching our campaign (look out for emails, posters, PDFs and even a video!) I can say that Project Marketplace has gifted me an opportunity to hone my own planning and execution skills whilst also exposing me to a wonderfully talented team I'd never known existed"
